	tudents consciously use the acquired practical and theoretical knowledge in the field of painting. They arn the basics of painting technology from books (see the recommended literature).
the	ince every discipline of art is based on compromise, what to choose, what to keep and what to leave out, ne same goes for instruction in painting, in which many things change including equipment, so today it no surprise that students bring and present their works on pendrives and laptops.
Wa	/orkshop skills are not the end but the means for creating an individual and authentic artwork.
	want my students to develop their own artistic language through interpreting various tasks and through apping into their painting predispositions.
	the instructional process I help my students to make decisions (which are sometimes extreme) that will nable them to execute their artistic vision to the fullest.
	hrough dialogue and discussion I try to help my students understand the reason why they paint and how est to express their ideas.
